“ Mr. Savarese was one of the real Men, I have ever known. Always there to help or assist a person. Had a good word to all, up beat and caring man. I was very shocked to hear of his passing. He will be sadly missed.

“ Rich, a well chosen name. Some people with money think they are rich. But, when an 80 year old learns how to text that's Rich. When the text he sends make you laugh out loud, that's Rich. When an old guy can hang with people of any age, that's Rich. When you love to take pictures wherever you go, that's Rich. When you love Orioles and Ravens from way back and now, that's Rich. When you earn so much respect, new friends call you uncle, that's Rich. And when you are gone, we will remember you with a smile, that's Rich.

“ Terrific guy, very caring, asked how things were going -- and actually listened. Great sense of humor with a zest for life. Did a bluegrass concert with Rich for years and he really got into it -- talking to the band, talking to strangers, taking pictures, even tried to clog a little. Rich visited my late father-in-law in nursing home near weekly giving me a break. just a good friend and a great guy -- will miss him.

“ Our deepest condolences. Richard was a great fisherman and a "best friend" who will be sorely missed. He was a solid Christian man and committed Catholic gentleman. He love to make cards for people to bring them joy and a happy birthday. How we will miss him. Prayers always. Nora and Deacon Ed Baker
